Revised November 2013
Alumni Recruitment-Basic Training

To be a successful alumni volunteer recruiter you need to be well informed. This training manual will help you serve prospective students so that they can make well informed college choices. Training materials and resources include this manual, brochures, general awareness fact sheets and other college publications.

ALUMNI RECRUITMENT PROGRAM (ARP)

Introduction

One of the greatest assets of Morgan State University is its alumni. Therefore, it is essential to involve positive, informed, and helpful alumni in the recruitment of undergraduate students. This manual describes the role of the alumni volunteer recruiters, provides a brief journey through the admission process, as well as gives important facts about Morgan.

The primary purpose of the Morgan State University Alumni Recruitment Program (ARP) is to match prospective students with an informed alumni contact. Alumni can share their Morgan “Bear” pride as an Alumni New Student Recruiter. Alumni are asked to assist with identifying quality students from high schools in their communities who are interested in the university by attending local high school and college fairs as a representative of Morgan. As an Alumni New Student Recruiter, you provide the one – on –one interaction, personal attention and encouragement that can make the difference between students in your community choosing Morgan over another school. Providing your perspective as a Morgan graduate can be very effective. Morgan has begun to expand its student recruitment areas outside of its traditional regions and intensifying our efforts to increase new student enrollment. Dr. David Wilson, our President has requested a 50% increase rate in alumni new student recruitment participation. Alumni assistance is vital to accomplish this goal.
Recruitment Do’s and Don’ts

😊 Do smile and show enthusiasm
😊 Do dress professionally
😊 Do ask students about themselves (intended major, high school, GPA, SAT scores, friends/associates at Morgan). Personal attention compliments our written material and lets students know that you are interested in their college plans.
😊 Do introduce yourself and be congenial with high school counselors and other college representatives.

😊 Don’t speak negatively about any other school or college
😊 Don’t answer when uncertain about anything
😊 Don’t make promises of any type (pertaining to admissions, scholarships, housing, etc.)
😊 Don’t discuss controversial issues or rumors
😊 Don’t speak negatively about Morgan

PRESENTATION

Alumni will have the opportunity to market the University in a group large or small, or to an individual. It is wise to have a basic presentation committed to memory that will be adapted suitably because the same information is needed by one or many. It is the intent of the training program to assure that all alumni are delivering the same message about admission requirements, academic programs, tuition & fees, student services, athletics, sororities/fraternities, clubs, etc.

Selling is the key. You must also cater to the needs of the students and parents. We want our prospects to look more closely at Morgan and say to themselves, “where has Morgan been!” Options must be presented in an EXCITING, LASTING, AND BELIEVABLE way.

PROCEDURAL REVIEW

When speaking with prospective students, please ask them to complete the student information card. Following receptions, high school visits and interviews, please complete the Alumni Recruitment Program Evaluation Form (located towards the back of the manual) along with all student information cards and prepare them for Fed Ex three day service express mailing. Please note the Fed Ex cardboard envelope and pre-paid shipping information that was placed in the box of recruitment materials. Place the information cards in the Fed Ex envelope with the completed return mailing address and return to the Admissions Representative located on the evaluation form. You may call Fed Ex at 1-800-463-3339 and request a pickup from your home or drop the cards off at a Fed Ex location to be mailed. If outside of the U.S. call your local Fed Ex office. It is very important for these cards to be returned. Please keep a record of contacts so that you may follow up as well.
HOW TO MAKE A PRESENTATION

The University

Begin your presentation by introducing yourself as an Alumnus and the name of the University. Founded in 1867 to prepare young men for the ministry, 1890 became Morgan College. Morgan became a public college in 1939 and was renamed Morgan State University by the state legislature in 1975. Morgan has been designated as Maryland’s public urban university.

Location

Tell the group/individual that Morgan is located in Baltimore, Maryland in a suburban residential area. Feel free to mention how far the university is from their home state. Indicate one or two identifying landmarks nearby, such as the Inner Harbor or that Morgan is one hour away from Washington, DC and thirty minutes from Baltimore Washington International Airport.

Site

Morgan has approximately 7,000 students from all 50 states and nearly 40 other countries. The student/teacher ratio is 18:1, which means that the student will receive that personal attention from his/her professor. Emphasize that the relationship between the two is very important. A medium sized school like Morgan promotes a family atmosphere. We will always consider ourselves a family of leaders and learners.

Social Life

Mention that the social life at Morgan is similar to most colleges but that we are unique because we offer services that cater to the needs of African-American students. Briefly discuss athletics (NCAA Division I/MEAC Conference) basketball, football, track & field, volleyball, softball and tennis. Mention the Greek Letter Organizations (Alpha Kappa Alpha, Delta Sigma Theta, Zeta Phi Beta, Sigma Gamma Rho, Alpha Phi Alpha, Omega Psi Phi, Phi Beta Sigma, Kappa Alpha Psi, and Iota Phi Theta). There are clubs and organizations within every major that a student can join. Leave students with the impression that Morgan is a “fun” place to be, however academics is number one. Feel free to mention your experience as a student. State that cultural events are held on campus as well as presentations by speakers such as Earl Graves, David Talbert, Travis Smiley, Judge Glenda Hatchet, Susan Taylor, Dr. Cornell West, former President Bill Clinton and current President Barack Obama. Also mention the MAGNIFICENT MARCHING BAND and the WORLD RENOWNED CHOIR who have performed all over the world – including China (for the World’s Fair), Russia (for Conservatory Week), Virgin Islands, Canary Islands, Canada, Africa, Asia and Europe, as well as singing for the White House, Nelson Mandela, and many more.
HOW TO CONDUCT A GROUP PRESENTATION

Begin a group talk by asking students to take a moment and fill out the contact cards. It is good to do things in the beginning so that you can refer to the card when speaking to each group.

If the group is small enough, sit among the group; otherwise, stand before it. Ask each member to introduce him or herself. Introduce yourself and give a brief description of your role with Morgan.

As an alumna/nus, students will be interested in your experiences.

Discuss Morgan's offerings. This should include the following:

- The types of programs offered in general
- Requirement for admission, credentials, and deadlines
- Specific information and extra – curricular activities (choir, band, organizations, etc.)
- Campus facilities, student and support services
- Financial aid/scholarship requirements, deadlines and credentials
- Tuition and fees
- Room and board costs, facilities and options
- General information about graduation and general education requirements
- Discuss the new things that are happening at Morgan (new facilities, state-of-the-art computers, etc.)
- Student teacher ratio (18:1)
- The number of students at Morgan State University
- The diverse student body (national as well as international)

Finally, ask each student about his or her interests, goals, and knowledge of Morgan.

Always end the group presentation by offering applications to seniors or encouraging them to apply online. Explain the importance of a campus tour and invite all to visit the office website or email for further information.
TELEMARKETING CAMPAIGNS

One of the most effective means of alumni recruitment is strategically placed telephone calls. These calls are designed to express warm interest, encourage matriculation, and respond to informational requests. In addition, alumni members assist the Admissions Office by identifying serious candidates. The calls can be segmented as follows:

Cultivating the Prospect
This communication will assist the Admissions Office in ascertaining the level of student interest and provide answers to questions students may have. As a result of this inquiry, the following rating system can be used:

- Upgrade the student to applicant status
- High interest
- Slight interest
- Talk with parent or relative

In cultivating the prospect, the alumni member should find out if an application has been requested and if the student plans to visit the campus. If the student is interested in a visit, the referrals will be made to the Office of Undergraduate Admission and Recruitment.

Cultivating the Applicant
Alumni will be provided a list of applicants from their respective communities/majors to telephone. Some may have submitted only an application or only a transcript or SAT/ACT scores. Alumni should call the student to:

- Encourage him or her to complete the application process
- Invite him or her to a reception, concert, athletic activity, etc.
- Get the names of other interested candidates
- Encourage a campus visit
- Speak with parent

HOW TO CONDUCT A PERSONAL INTERVIEW

In a personal interview, you may be speaking with an individual prospect or entire family. NOTE: You may be able to get to know a prospect better if he is speaking to you without his/her parents.

If all are together, direct the majority of the questions concerning interest, academic programs, wants, and desires to the prospect. The key is to get the prospect to talk and feel comfortable. More often the parent will talk and the prospect will not be an active participant in the interview. Begin by asking the prospect questions about:

- Academic progress in school
- Interest (extra-curricula)
- How the student found out about Morgan State University, and what they know about Morgan State University
- What is the student looking for in a school (housing, financial aid, scholarship, sports, etc.)
- What major the student is interested in pursuing

Pose open questions that require more than just yes or no answers.

While in the interview, also ask the parents what they are looking for in a college for their child. Be sure to address all questions to both parents and prospect. This is a perfect lead into a full description of Morgan State University which should include the following:

- Requirements for admission
  (encourage applicants to apply online and discuss credentials and deadlines)
- The types of programs offered in general
- Specific information about the prospect’s area of interest
- Campus facilities, student, and support services
- Extra curricula activities on campus (sports, clubs, organizations)
- Financial aid/scholarship requirements, cost to attend Morgan State University
- Room and board facilities options and costs
- General information about graduation and general education requirements

At this point ask if there are any questions.

Finally, briefly review the admissions packet reiterating criteria, necessary credentials, and deadlines. Assure the prospect and parents that they can call you or the Office of Undergraduate Admission and Recruitment and with questions or concerns.
