

Becoming A Multi-Dimensional Woman Entrepreneur
 Personal Well-Being • Leader • Business Owner • Philanthropist

4th Annual Conference

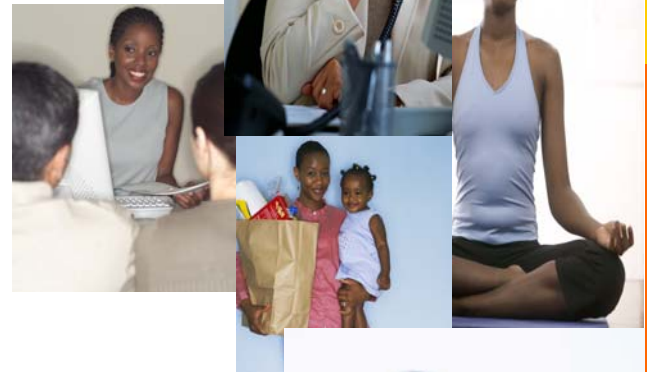

September 17—18, 2010

Morgan State University

New Student Center

The W.O.M.E.N. Conference (Women Owned and Managed Enterprise Network), is a network of resources that support African American women in developing and retaining competitive enterprises. The W.O.M.E.N.'s Conference is meeting the needs of the growing demand of women needing small business services, knowledge, and access.

In 2010, the two (2) day conference will celebrate its 4th year, and is organized by a National Advisory Council lead by the Entrepreneurial Development & Assistance Center (EDAC), and will attract over 200 attendees. "Becoming a Multi-Dimensional Woman Entrepreneur" for your personal well-being, as a leader, as a business owner, and community philanthropist is the cornerstone for a women owned and managed enterprise' success.

2010 Workshops

Motivational Mind-Set

Tip the Scales of Work-Life Balance in Your Favor: Five Timely Tips

Activating the Business Plan

From Pampers to Proposals—Today's Business Woman

The ABC's of Borrowing

Social Entrepreneurship—Social Duty of an Entrepreneur

Doing Business with the Federal Government: Tools to Get You Ready

Marketing on a Dime: Five Creative Tactics to Get Your Company Noticed

Just to name a few...

TO REGISTER, LOG-ON TO
<http://edacwomen.eventbrite.com>

Sponsored By:

W.O.M.E.N. National Advisory Council

- Sylvia D. Browder, Browder Consulting Group
- Kiesha Haughton Smoots, Maryland Small Business Development Center
- Danielle Johnson, Special Gathering, LLC
- Tiffany L. Lymon, Professional Development Life Coach
- Tonia McCoy, U.S. Small Business Administration
- Omar Muhammad, EDAC
- Mary M. White, Ed.D., Jackson State University

