MSU Christmas Angel Program to visit Abbottston Elementary

University students and community to donate gifts to elementary school students

Morgan State University's Christmas Angel Program will once again brighten the holiday season for elementary school children this year.

Gifts will be handed out on Friday, December 11, 2009, to approximately 230 students by the Christmas Angel Program following an assembly at Abbottston Elementary School, located at 1300 Gorsuch Ave., in Northeast Baltimore, at 10 a.m.

The Christmas Angel Program, which is facilitated by Morgan's Office of Residence Life and Housing, annually strives to enhance the holiday experience of school children by choosing an elementary school within the university community. Gifts are provided for the children through donations from Morgan students and members of the community.
