Introduction to IGBO

Taught by

ANTHONY ANICHUKWU

Course Description:
This course introduces the student to the rich culture and heritage embedded in the Igbo language widely spoken in the Eastern part of The Federal Republic of Nigeria in West Africa. Students will learn the basics of the written and the functional/oral communication in Igbo language.

Presenter Biography
Mr. Anthony Anichukwu is from the Igbo tribe in southeast Nigeria. He studied applied psychology and philosophy in Nigeria. After completing his program, Mr. Anichukwu came to the United States to study Theology at the Dominican House of Studies in Washington DC. During his tenure, Mr. Anichukwu helped teach the Igbo Language at Howard University in the summer. Currently, Mr. Anichukwu serves as a Chaplain at the University of Maryland Medical Center. In his work, he applies analytic philosophy to the Igbo language, culture, epistemology, and cosmology.
