What is a Student Organization?

A student organization is defined as a group of currently enrolled, undergraduate Morgan State University students who unite to promote a common interest. Morgan State University recognizes the vital contributions that student organizations make to enhance the quality of campus life; however, recognition as a campus organization is not to be interpreted as an endorsement from the University.

Student organizations shall abide by all applicable procedures of state and federal laws and local ordinances, as well as, all Morgan State University policies, guidelines, rules, and regulations, including but not limited to the Morgan State University Student Code of Conduct. If it is alleged that a registered student organization or its members have failed to comply with University policies or procedures, the University may conduct an investigation and render sanctions as deemed necessary.

All student organizations are expected to sponsor programs and complete at least 50 hours of community service per academic year to remain active under the Office of Student Life & Development.

Registration Process for Recognized Student Organizations

Student organizations are required to register annually with the Office of Student Life & Development in July of each year. Student organizations must register online at www.morgan.edu/studentlife. Any existing student organization that does not register by the communicated deadline will lose any dates/events approved by the University Events Office and will be cited as inactive until the registration process is complete.

Completion of the registration form by a representative of each organization will be utilized to verify that the organization is active. Any information (i.e., valid Morgan e-mail address, phone number, etc.) on the registration form not fully completed will delay the registration process. Once your registration is approved, it will appear under the Student Organization's tab on the Student Life & Development webpage at www.morgan.edu/studentlife
Student Organization’s Summit

All student organizations must attend the Student Organization’s Summit to be an active organization within the Office of Student Life & Development at Morgan State University for the current academic year.

Two (2) representatives and one (1) advisor from each organization are required to be present for the entire duration of the Summit. Student organization representatives can only represent one (1) organization on the day of the Summit.

The Student Organization’s Summit is a mandatory conference that convenes each September in which leaders representing all student organizations gather together for the purposes of:

1. being educated on student organization Morgan State University policies, the University Student Center and Office of Student Life & Development policies, procedures and guidelines;
2. equipping student organizations with the tools they need to be successful on campus such as leadership development, parliamentarian procedures, campus marketing, fundraising, and event planning;
3. providing advisors with training to become more effective in the guidance of student organizations and;
4. promoting effective networking with University administrators.

Two (2) representatives and one (1) advisor from each organization are required to be present for the entire duration of the Summit. Student organization representatives can only represent one (1) organization on the day of the Summit.

Failure to comply with attendance requirements will result in the student organization being inactive for the entire academic school year and all previously scheduled programs being canceled. Once student organizations register on the Office of Student Life & Development webpage, they will receive a notification to sign-up for the Student Organization Summit.

Forming a New Student Organization

Students that endeavor to start their own student organization in order to serve a unrepresented need supporting the student body can do so in the Office of Student Life & Development. However, there are several questions to consider before embarking on this process:

1. Does the proposed organization address a need that is fulfilled already by another student organization? If so, please consider joining the existing organization rather than starting a new one.

2. Does the proposed organization have durability, i.e. is there a reasonable potential that the organization can attract new members on annual basis so that it can remain viable after the initial members graduate from the University? If not, you may want to find ways to pursue your interests that do not involve creating a new organization.
Student groups desiring to be officially recognized as a student organization at Morgan State University must complete the application process by submitting the following to the Office of Student Life & Development located in the University Student Center Suite 303. Specifically the components required are:

1. New Student Organization Application
2. purpose to include the benefits to the University
3. a complete list of Executive Board Members (must include student Identification numbers)
4. Names of at least 12 current students interested in the proposed organization (must include student Identification numbers)
5. membership requirements;
6. a signed statement of advisement from a full-time University administrator, staff or faculty member on University letterhead consenting to serve as an advisor. The advisor statement must include that individual's email address and telephone number;
7. Constitution and By-Laws;
8. written consent from the national organization, if applicable;
9. Types of activities planned;
10. dues statement, if applicable

The proposed organization’s purpose, programming, and constitution must not be in conflict with the policies, rules, and regulations of the University.

Once the application components are received, they are reviewed by the Coordinator for Student Life & Development and then forwarded to the Vice President for Student Affairs for final approval.

The Vice President for Student Affairs may elect to approve an organization on a trial basis, stipulating that one-year must elapse from the date of approval before a final decision for recognition will be rendered.

Notification of approval or non-approval will be communicated in writing within 30-60 days of submission. Organizations approved in the fall must attend a Student Organization Summit 2.0 in February. Organizations approved in March must attend the annual Student Organization Summit in September. Failure to attend the aforementioned events will result in the termination of the new organization.

3. Is the membership willing to actively participate in the Morgan student organization community and develop programs and events that foster relationships with the entire Morgan campus and the surrounding community?

4. Applications for a new student organization are only accepted in the months of November and March.
Upon final approval, the proposed organization must comply annually with the existing rules for all registered organizations. The University shall exercise sole and complete discretion regarding approval of a proposed student organization.

Newly approved student organizations must participate in the Student Organization Fun Fair, in addition to the Student Organization Summit, and have an information meeting within the first two months of each academic school-year to remain active. New student organizations that are not active after approval will be deemed inactive by the Coordinator of Student Life & Development for the remaining of the academic school year for failure to comply.

All new student organizations have a 60-day probation period from the date of approval and must show how they are contributing to the campus culture and community through programs and activities.

Academic Standards for Student Organization Leaders

The students in the following positions are required to possess a minimum cumulative grade point average (GPA of 2.7: President, Vice-President, Secretary, and Treasurer. A roster of all members must be submitted to the Office of Student Life & Development each academic year during the Fall and the Spring during the second week of January before the start of the Spring Semester.

Once your organization has registered with the Office of Student Life & Development, the GPA of each officer and member will be verified prior to your organization completing the registration process. If the listed officers do not possess the required minimum GPA, the organization will be deemed inactive for the entire fall semester. Those organizations deemed inactive during the fall semester may re-submit their registration for the spring semester if they have officers who possess the required GPA.

Student Organization Fun Fair

The Student Organization Fun Fair, sponsored by the Office of Student Life & Development is held annually during the fall semester. Its purpose is to provide registered student clubs and organizations with the opportunity to recruit new members. Each group is given table space to display the organization’s purpose, achievements, and activities (through fliers, news articles, pamphlets, and paraphernalia).
Student Organization’s Meeting

The Office of Student Life & Development conducts meetings with student organizations for the purpose of disseminating University policies, procedures, as well as promoting events, programs, and community service activities. The meetings also serve as an excellent networking opportunity for student leaders, to share ideas, and to gather critical and timely information as it relates to campus life.

Attendance at the meetings is mandatory, requiring each organization to have one representative and one alternate present. Why should I advise a student organization?

Advising a student or student organization provides you with an opportunity to help facilitate the growth and development of student leaders. It’s a fun way to get to know students outside of the classroom or office. Advisors will be able to see the students they work with become successful in their organization’s work and see knowledge acquired within the classroom used in their everyday lives. Please understand that being an advisor places you in a role that is “on-call.” Therefore, time management is needed when serving in this capacity.

⇒ Fundraisers held at facilities with alcohol are strictly prohibited. Advisors found violating this policy will lose privileges as an advisor.

⇒ While partnerships are encouraged, at no time shall a student organization use the University’s name when securing outside vendors. Each organization shall use the organization’s non-profit status (if applicable).

⇒ Student Organization’s traveling off campus or out of state on behalf of the student organization must inform the Office of Student Life & Development prior to traveling. This will protect the students, advisors and chaperones in the event that something occurs. They must submit a Travel Authorization Waiver, which the organization will receive upon informing the Office of Student Life & Development personnel.

⇒ Fraternization with members of the student organization is strongly discouraged.

⇒ Advisors are held to the same standards as the members of student organizations and must adhere to all guidelines set forth in the Student Organization Handbook.
