Several options are being discussed and are being explored to ensure that the commencement ceremony continues to be an outstanding day for our students, their families, our faculty and staff.

She wanted to ensure that we were not using the terminology "qualified minorities", implying that we (minorities) or our description means that we are lesser than the norm. She reiterated by stating that Morgan's programming and faculty are excellent by all standards.

Regent Cummings thanked Dr. Wilson for his excellent testimony. And he also wanted to thank the University for initiating the conversation with a panel regarding what is occurring in our nation.
